Join Suburban Connection to discover the profound impact of self-advocacy on business success. In GERALYN's compelling speech, she demonstrates how empowering individuals to speak up and value their contributions can lead to heightened employee engagement and improved customer experiences. By fostering a culture where voices are heard and self-worth is nurtured, businesses unlock innovation, enhance team dynamics, and drive profitable growth.

Geralyn Gaines is the founder of Keeping It G™, a speaking practice dedicated to empowering individuals and teams to embrace self-advocacy and transform their careers. Through her signature keynote, Shifting Gears, interactive workshops, and one-on-one and group coaching, she equips clients with the tools to speak up, recognize their worth, and achieve their full potential.
