As Director of Insurance at Spartan Wealth Management, Ms. Safeh leads the firm's insurance planning strategy and integrates risk management into the broader wealth planning process. With nearly a decade in financial services, Mariam has built Spartan's insurance department from the ground up, supporting clients and advisors across life insurance, disability income, long-term care, annuities, executive benefits, and business insurance. She works closely with business owners, physicians, executives, professionals, and families to connect insurance strategies with retirement, estate, tax, business succession, and wealth transfer planning. Her approach is straightforward: understand the bigger picture, educate clients on their options, and build strategies that serve the overall plan. Mariam also mentors advisors, oversees insurance operations and carrier relationships, and is passionate about strengthening the role of risk management in comprehensive wealth planning. Outside of work, she enjoys golf, hiking, traveling, cooking dishes inspired by different cultures, and cheering on the Detroit Red Wings.
